

Stop the Demand

1. Adopt an Abolitionist approach.

- Learn to distinguish between which is the perpetrator and which is the victim.

2. Treat them accordingly.

- We must provide services for victims and seek prosecution for perpetrators.

3. Enforce laws against the soliciting and buying of sex acts.

4. Charge men who buy sex from minors with serious crimes – child sexual abuse and statutory rape.

5. Education/awareness programs about the harm of prostitution/sex trafficking and men's contributing role through Veronica's Voice and Offender's Accountability Re-Education Program (OAR) or John School.

Why would someone become a human trafficker (pimp)?

- Low Risk
- No Experience Required
- Minimal Start-Up Costs
- High Profits
- Low Maintenance
- Thriving Market Demand

What We Must Do

Investigate, arrest, and prosecute traffickers and pimps, as well as all of their associates.
